CENSUS IN MAHARASHTRA

Maharashtra could be a wonderful state situated within the western region of India. The state is home to a number of the famed historical monuments, temples, caves, festivals and a active life-style in India. The state has an incredible outline of 720 kilometers along the Arabian Sea. Maharashtra plays a significant role in economic development of India because it is second most inhabited state of India after Uttar Pradesh. With over 9.29% of the entire population of India, Maharashtra is presently home to over 121 million individuals. each in terms of population and geographic area, Maharashtra is that the second largest state in India. Population in Maharashtra has witnessed a growth of 16.1% within the last decade between years 2001 to 2011. Maharashtra is one among the foremost developed states of India as 45th of total population within the state lives in urban areas. The city of Mumbai is home to over 18 million people in the country. The state plays a key role in economic development of India as major monetary establishments are situated here. Maharashtra is additionally best-known everywhere world for its theatre and cinema industry. Over 70 million people within the state speak Marathi language.

Maharashtra Demographics

Marathis are in majority in Maharashtra. The Marathi people are an Indo-Aryan grouping with a history going back over 2,000 years. Minority teams embrace the Gujarati, Bihari, Punjabis, Paris, Tamil and Kanarese. Maharashtra is additionally home to the Adivasis, an autochthonal social group people who includes the Halba, Konkana, Warli and Thakar.

Hinduism is that the main faith of the state, accounting for 82.5% of the population, followed by Muslims at 13.4%. Jainism, Christianity, Sikhism and different religions account for simply over 4WD of the population. Christianity initial arrived in Maharashtra within the 13th century through Portuguese Jesuit missionaries, and most Maharashtrian Christians are Catholic.

There are 925 females for each 1,000 males, in Maharashtra which is below the national average of 940, however not at all the lowest within the country. The population density of the state is additionally below average.

PSCNotes free sample: first 5 of 32 pages. Full PDF at pscnotes.com

Maharashtra Population Growth

Maharashtra is the second-most inhabited state in India, and its residents account for nearly 9.3% of India's total population. In 2011, the state grew 15.99% over the last decade, whereas the last decade before it grew over 22.5%. Maharashtra is the second-most inhabited state in India, and its residents account for nearly 9.3% of India's total population. After independence in 1947, the state has had a decadal growth rate exceeding the national average, except in 1971 and 2011.

In 2013, it absolutely was found that Maharashtra's urban growth had slowed by over 100% between 2001 and 2011, rising 23.67% compared to growth of over 34.5% between 1991 and 2001. This decline in growth is as a result of lower fertility and reduced internal migration numbers.

Current Population of Maharashtra

Maharashtra is graded second most inhabited state of India with a complete figure of over 123 million people. In year 2017, the state Population is calculable to be 123,174,918. The population of Maharashtra was 121 million in 2016. Each year, the state adds over 1.5 million individuals to its ever growing population. A total type of people living in Maharashtra in 2015 was 119,564,629. The state is home to Hindu outsized proportion i.e. 96.8 million. Population of Maharashtra in 2013

According to estimates, there are 115,997,674 people living within the state of Maharashtra. Increase in Maharashtra is taken into account speedy because the state adds 1.8 million people every year to its ever increasing population. The state features a sizable amount of migratory populations from all over India.

Population of Maharashtra in 2012

Population of Maharashtra in 2012 Population of Maharashtra was calculable to be 114,170,939 in 2012. Maharashtra additional another 1.7 million people to its growing population.

Population of geographical area in 2011

PSCNotes free sample: first 5 of 32 pages. Full PDF at pscnotes.com

According to Census of Asian country 2011, Population n the state of geographical area was 112,372,972. Sex magnitude relation in geographical area was 925 females for each a thousand males.

Sex ratio in Maharashtra

Sex ratio within the state presently stands at 925 females for every a thousand males. This figure is low compared to national sex ratio of 940. District wise Ratnagiri has the best sex ratio of 1123 whereas Mumbai has the lowest sex ratio of 838 in Maharashtra. Overall, sex ratio within the state is less as compared to national sex ratio however government has taken numerous steps to enhance this figure.

Literacy Rate in Maharashtra

Maharashtra is one among the highest states of India where education levels have reached new heights with the skill rate of 82.9%. The state is home to variety of universities and colleges providing teaching programs at numerous levels in several streams. Pune Mumbai and Nagpur are massive academic hubs because the state attracts students from all over the globe. Geographical region has created vital progress in raising their overall skill rate.

Population by religion in Maharashtra

Hinduism is dominant religion in Maharashtra state and features a sturdy hold of 79.8% population. Islam has 11.5%population in Maharashtra. Buddhist religion with 5.8% followers includes a descent number of presence within the state. Marathi is most well-liked and official state language in Maharashtra. Languages i.e. English and Hindi also are widely spoken by an oversized proportion of population. Malvani, Gujarati, Konkan and Varhadi are common languages spoken in numerous districts of Maharashtra.

The second most inhabited state in India is Maharashtra, set in western India on the Arabian Sea. Maharashtra incorporates a population of roughly 112 million (about an equivalent as Mexico), and is additional urban that Uttar Pradesh. Slightly below half of Maharashtra's voters board an urban center.

As a result, Maharashtra claims some pretty sizeable cities. The most important, in terms of population, is Mumbai. Mumbai, that was originally a little fishing colony on the outline, is currently one in every of the most important cities within the world with a population of over 18 million. That creates it concerning double the dimensions of New York City. Not solely is that this outsized town, however it is also an influential one. Mumbai is that the wealthiest city in India, and one in every of the wealthiest within the world. It's a leader within the innovative communications technologies and international finance, has foremost education systems, and is one among the foremost necessary trade centers within the Indian Ocean. This is often additionally wherever Bollywood maintains India's film culture.

PSCNotes free sample: first 5 of 32 pages. Full PDF at pscnotes.com

Overall, Mumbai represents modern India and therefore the nation's place within the world economy. At the same time, Mumbai represents different aspects of contemporary India, together with its forceful gap in wealth. The wealthiest and therefore the poorest of India's citizens will all be found in Mumbai, a city with each mansions and slums. In fact, concerning half of Maharashtra's impoverished are targeted during this single city.

Maharashtra bears population 9.67 crores (census 2001) and 11.23 crore (census 2011) is 9.39 % and 9.28 the concerns severally of the whole population (102.9 and 121.0 crores) of India. Throughout the last decade 1991-2001 the population of the state is exaggerated by 22.6 %. Whereas in 2001-2011 it's 16.14 %. The corresponding growth throughout the earlier decade was 25.7 % and 22.6 %. The decadal rate of growth in 1991-2001 was less by 3.1% and in 2001-2011 by 6.43 the main points. The decadal growth rate of the state throughout the six decades has been above that of India aside from the last decade 1971-81.

Population distribution in Maharashtra: As per the 2001 census, Maharashtra features a population of 96,752,247 inhabitants creating it the second most inhabited state in India. As per 2011, Maharashtra bears population of 112372972 keeping second position in India. That contributes 9.42 % and 9.29 at some point of 2001 and 2011 census. Consistent with the 2011 census, population of Maharashtra is 112372972, is that the second largest state in India. U.P. initially and Bihar is at third rank. Solely eleven countries of the planet have a population larger than Maharashtra. Its density is 365 inhabitants per square km. Males represent 50.3 million and females, 46.4 million. Its rate of growth between 1991–2001 was 22.57 try to 16.14 % in 2001-2011. Maharashtra maintained its share very little over 14 July within the total urban population in India.

According to tentative figures of census 2011, out of total population eleven,23,72,972 persons, 5,83,61,397 males and five,40,11,575 females, forms the sex magnitude relation of

PSCNotes free sample: first 5 of 32 pages. Full PDF at pscnotes.com

Maharashtra 925 females per 1000 males. As per on top of population sex ratio figures of Maharashtra, general trend of sex ratio is declining one. it absolutely was 978 in 1901 and currently 925 in 2011. this is often decreased by 53 units. This declining trend is broken in between to create increasing in one decade and declines in cluster decades. As declines ceaselessly from 1901 to 1931 then exaggerated in next decade by 02 units in 1941. Sex ratio once more declined until 1971 and increased in next census by 07 units in 1981. Once more declined until 2001 and increased by 03 units in 2011.

Industrial development in Maharashtra

Maharashtra is that the second largest State in India in terms of population and third largest as per geographical region (3.08 lakh sq.km) of the country. The state has actual population of 112,373,972 (as per 2011 Census (Provisional) that is 9.29 % share of total population of India. it's delimited by Arabian Sea within the West, Gujarat within the North West and Madhya Pradesh within the North, Andhra Pradesh within the South-East and Karnataka and Goa in the South. The Konkan Coastal stretches around 720 kms long within the West and also the Sahyadri ranges paralleled to the ocean coast at concerning 80 Kms wide within the East. To the coast of the Sahyadri stretches a huge plateau. This plateau is drained by the 3 great rivers Godavari, Bhima and Krishna, that rise within the Sahyadri and flow eastward across Indian land into the Bay of Bengal. The State has 35 districts that area unit divided into six revenue divisions viz. Konkan, Pune, Nashik, Aurangabad, Amravati and Nagpur for body functions. The State incorporates a long tradition of getting statutory bodies for coming up with at the district. For native self-governance in rural areas, there are 33 Zilla Parishads, 351 punchayet Samitis and 27,906 Gram Panchayats.

The urban areas are ruled through 26 Municipal companies, 219 Municipal Councils, seven Nagar Panchayats and 7 cantonment Boards. Mumbai is the capital of Maharashtra and also the monetary capital of India, homes the headquarters of most of the most important corporates & monetary establishments. India’s main stock exchanges & capital market and commodity exchanges are located in Mumbai. Maharashtra has been in the forefront in sustaining industrial growth and in creating environment conductive to industrial development. Investment – friendly industrial policies along with excellent infrastructure and a strong and productive human resource base have made it a favoured destination for manufacturing and exporting sectors.

PSCNotes free sample: first 5 of 32 pages. Full PDF at pscnotes.com